

COVID Aftermath

COVID let us stick together
But separated us much more
COVID led us back from globalisation to philistine lifestyle
It isolated and introverted us
It unlinked us as social beings.

COVID made the imbeciles much more imbecile
It revealed their disability and undefinable ineffectiveness
COVID was the covering for all decisions undone
Was the face-saver
The excuse for everything.

COVID made the Nations more national
Renewed the idea of nationalism
Rebuilt long forgotten borders
Enclosed us from the World
Only me...-

COVID showed us with deficiencies
That we're all living in the same big network
It left Men without work homes without outfit
Children without shoes painters without canvas
It put the internet first to personal handshake.

COVID led us back to home office
Put home office first to customer contact
Made bureaus meetings congresses senseless
Claimed computers the Holy Grail
You alone with yourself - virtually.

COVID let Nature breathe again
Recoloured places ruined by tourism
Gave us back the Awareness for the murmurs in the woods
The humming in the meadows and the splendor of butterflies
That fish in the Sea should not be taken for granted.

COVID separated us from the World
Refused us the marvel and beauty
Set us back into our memories
Cut of the umbilical cord to Mother Earth
And latest gave us back only a little bit.

COVID betrayed our children
Who wanted to explore and to configure their world
Who wanted to find their place under the sky
It let children paint faces without a mouth
It exiled them to computers and the internet.

COVID stripped us off Truth
It brought us to Faith with churches which were closed

It brought conspiracy theories and superstition to life

It redefined Me and You and Family

Thus it divorced us from the We

COVID did it.
